CHANGE OF NAME

The Continental Life Insurance Co. of Wilmington, Del., changed its name to the Continental American Life Insurance Co., effective January 10, 1927.

COMPANIES AND ASSOCIATIONS EXAMINED

This department examined the Capital City Benefit Society, Home Plate Glass Insurance Co., National Union Fire Insurance Co., and the Mutual Protection Fire Insurance Co., all of the District of Columbia. Convention examinations were made of the following concerns, of which the department had charge, viz:

The American Workmen, a local fraternal society, and the Supreme Lodge, Knights of Pythias Insurance Department of the District of Columbia, with executive offices at Indianapolis, Ind. The former examination was made in conjunction with the Mississippi insurance department, and the latter the Indiana insurance department.

In addition, the department had examiners on, or were represented in, the following examinations, viz: Standard Life Insurance Co. of Atlanta, Ga., and Eureka Springs, Ark.; Mutual Benefit Fund Assn. of Richmond, Va.; Mutual Life Insurance Co., of Baltimore, Md.; Union Labor Life Insurance Co., of Maryland; Our Home Life Insurance Co., of Jacksonville, Fla.; and the Continental Life Insurance Co., of Richmond, Va. The three latter companies have executive offices in Washington, and are in reality local institutions.

Owing to the reinsurance agreement between the National Benefit Life Insurance Co., of Washington, and the Standard Life Insurance Co., of Atlanta, Ga., and Eureka Springs, Ark., the insurance departments of the States of Alabama, Arkansas, Tennessee, Kentucky, and Missouri, insisted upon a joint examination of the former company, which was commenced in August, 1927, but was not completed until May last. Mr. Frank M. Speakman, of Philadelphia, actuary, had charge of the work and this department was represented throughout the same. A copy of each of the foregoing examinations has been furnished to your board.

PROPOSED INSURANCE CODE

What is known as the "Blanton bill" (H. R. No. 10147), providing for a new insurance code for the District, passed the House of Representatives on February 27 last, and on February 28 was referred to the Senate Committee on the District of Columbia. The latter referred it to the subcommittee on insurance and banks, of which Senator Blaine, of Wisconsin, is the chairman. On March 20, Senator Watson, of Indiana, by request, introduced Senate bill 3709, a duplicate of H. R. bill No. 16147, introduced by Congressman Reid, of Illinois, in the House of Representatives, January 11, 1927. Both the Blanton and Watson bills were considered by Senator Blaine's subcommittee for several months, and after public hearings for three days the former bill was reported back to the full committee, with numerous proposed amendments, and reprinted. Later on, owing to further requests from interested parties, the full committee referred the bill again to the subcommittee, in order that it could consider additional suggested amendments, and report the bill back to the full committee in December next. The proposed new insurance code has now reached its majority without final action by Congress, for in November, 1907, the late Thomas E. Drake, then superintendent of insurance, in his report to your board regarding this matter, quoted from a speech of the Hon. Samuel W. McCall, of Massachusetts, made in the United States House of Representatives, February 14, 1907, in part as follows:

As a result of the awakening, State laws are being strengthened and yet we find in the District of Columbia a code scarcely worthy of the name.

The Congressman referred to the Armstrong investigation of insurance matters in New York in 1905 and 1906. Hope is still entertained that some day Congress will pass the insurance code bill.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION LAW

After seven years of indefatigable labor, Congressman Underhill, of Massachusetts, succeeded in securing for the District a workmen's compensation measure, that fully protects the employee, at the same time does not work undue hardship on the employer. This class of coverage can be secured through regularly licensed carriers by this department, or through self insurance under certain conditions. Senator Blaine, of Wisconsin, introduced a bill which made the provisions of the "Longshoremen's and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act" of March 4, 1927, with a few minor amendments, applicable to the District.

AMENDMENTS TO THE FRATERNAL LAW

Three bills amending the District fraternal law, were introduced in both the Senate and House of Representatives. Only one of these has become a law, and that is known as the "Speakman Juvenile Fraternal Bill," adopted in a number of the States, permitting fraternal societies to write juvenile insurance under certain conditions.

The bill allowing fraternal societies to pay the proceeds of policies, where the insured persons can no longer keep up the required payments, to some charitable, benevolent, or eleemosynary institution, in addition to those beneficiaries now prescribed by law, passed the Senate, but in the House objection was raised to the passage of the bill and it, therefore, stays on the calendar of the House for action during the next session.

The bill adding in section 764 of the fraternal law of the District to the excepted societies such as the grand or subordinate lodges of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, Masons, and so forth, the Junior Order United American Mechanics, passed the House February 27, and was amended in the Senate, by request, to include also the Knights of Columbus. However, the two bills being different, it was too late in the session to refer the same to a joint committee of the Senate and House, and that bill is also on the calendar of the House.

The passage of the "juvenile fraternal bill" is the first amendment to the fraternal insurance law for the District in 26 years.

UNLICENSED INSURANCE COMPANIES

Inquiries frequently reach this department relative to the financial standing of certain insurance concerns, particularly health and accident, not licensed in the District, soliciting business through the mails. A number of these concerns offer protection at ridiculously low premiums, and yet when it comes to the adjustment of claims, in nearly every instance, payment is withheld for the most trivial reason.

The public should be warned against some of these insurers, who are operating in many cases for the benefit only of the get-rich-quick promoters. This practice of transacting insurance by mail has become so general in the United States that the National Convention of Insurance Commissioners has selected a committee to wait upon the Postmaster General for some suggested relief. A resident agent's law would curb to a large extent the activities of some of these companies and associations.

COMPULSORY AUTOMOBILE LIABILITY INSURANCE

The "Treadway bill," providing for compulsory automobile liability insurance for the District, is still in the hands of the subcommittee of the District of Columbia House Committee, awaiting further hearings and reliable information as to the operation of a similar law in the State of Massachusetts, which went into effect on January 1, 1927.

On May 21, Congresswoman Rogers, of Massachusetts, also introduced a compulsory automobile liability insurance bill, quite different from the "Treadway bill," and this is patterned after the New Hampshire law, which requires automobile liability security after an accident. Under this bill a person injured or whose automobile is damaged would be compelled to go into court, and if after a preliminary inquiry it is found that the defendant is at fault, he would have to furnish security in the shape of an insurance policy or surety bond with certain liability limits, or he may deposit cash or other securities with the court. This bill has also been referred to the same subcommittee.

"INSURANCE DAY" FOR THE DISTRICT

In a great many of the States each year there is now being set apart a day known as "Insurance Day." These occasions are proving very profitable and are becoming more popular each year. The object is to bring together the public who purchase the insurance, and the representatives of the companies who assume the risks. Usually competent speakers are secured to discuss the various phases of the insurance business, and the sessions being public, time is always allowed for the asking of questions, so that the uninformed may secure valuable knowledge, and also meet the various insurance representatives. The department requests your approval of such a movement for the District.

FIRE RATES IN THE DISTRICT

Your board has been presented with a copy of the report of the committee on police and fire protection and public safety of the Washington Chamber of Commerce on the fire rate situation in the District, dated March 29, 1928. In that report particular attention is paid to the fire rates effective at the present time in the District. Mention is made that the companies claim that the reason rates can not be reduced is that the companies throughout the United States have been losing money of late years. Your attention is invited to the remarks of Mr. John O. Platt, vice president of the Insurance Company of North America, at the annual meeting of the National Board of Fire Underwriters held in New York recently, refuting the contention of the chairman of the committee on public relations of the board that the fire companies had not made "any undue profit"—in fact, during the past eight years had only a credit balance in one year, Mr. Platt said:

I favor taking the public completely into confidence regarding the (fire) business, but not on such points as "scientific rate making," which is not scientific. Again, I deplore the tendency to claim we are losing money, when we are making it. The underwriting losses we all know are offset by profits on other things. I say you will never gain by setting forth misleading statements.

ARBITRATION OF AUTOMOBILE CASUALTY CLAIMS

The courts are congested many times with an accumulation of automobile accident claims, and unfortunately there seems to be a popular impression among the many who appeal to this department for assistance in such matters that casualty insurance companies are partly responsible for this condition, inasmuch as they purposely go into court to delay the settlement of claims.

Recently the American Arbitration Association was formed, which is nonprofit making and offers its services free to the public. Several of the large casualty companies are issuing policies now in which they agree to immediately arbitrate any claim for damages for personal injuries growing out of accidents covered by their policies. The insured is privileged to name his arbitrator, who in turn has a voice in the selection of the other parties. Such a voluntary movement on the part of these casualty companies can only result in good to all parties concerned.

GENERAL REMARKS

The absolute need of an actuary for the department becomes more apparent each time an examination of an insurance company is made. Fortunately the proposed new insurance code makes provisions for such an additional employee, as well as another stenographer to take care of the natural increase in the business of the department. The work and records of the department will bear the closest scrutiny for being up to date and in good shape.

Respectfully submitted.

T. M. BALDWIN, Jr.,
Superintendent of Insurance.
